Women To Choose 9 AWS Officers Mar. 20

Election of 1957-58 officers for the Association of Women Students will be held Wednesday, March 20, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the recreation hall, announced Shirley Merritt, president. Every woman student, a member of the organization, is eligible to vote upon presenting her activity card at the voting booth.

Candidates for president are Janet Dick and June Fritsch. The candidate receiving the second highest number of votes will serve as first vice-president of the AWS, and chairman of Judicial Board. Miss Dick is a junior majoring in elementary education and English in the College of Education. She served as second vice-president of AWS this year. Some of her other activities include Sigma Tau Delta, English honorary, publicity chairman of United Christian Fellowship, vice-president of Book and Motor, Kohl Hall house-board, corresponding secretary of AWS, a member of the University Orientation Committee, and house chairman of Alpha Phi sorority.

Miss Fritsch is also a junior major in elementary education. She held the position of treasurer of AWS this year. She is a member of the Association for Childhood Education, UCF, and Panhellenic Council and is treasurer of Omega Phi Alpha. Miss Fritsch was recently elected president of Kappa Delta sorority, formerly serving as vice-president and rush chairman.

Nominees for second vice-president are Annette Auderhaar, Linda Gee, and Shirley Ralston. Those nominated for the office of treasurer are Joan Baker and Rachel Yeasting.

Other candidates for offices are as follows:

Recording secretary—Mary Larsen, Sue Rautine, and Mary Ann Sockrider; corresponding secretary—Judy Beatty, Carol McEwen, and Maureen Rooney; senior representative—Barbara Bick, Christine Skodlar, and Barbara Young; junior representative—Mary Anderson, Mary Jo Aufderheide, and Mardelle Payne; and sophomore representative—Ann Browder, Mary McCollister, and Mary Lou Reynolds.

The qualifications for all candidates will be included in the second AWS Newsletter which will be distributed to all women's housing units Monday, March 18.

Freshman Honorary Plans May Initiation

Freshmen who made a 3.5 point average or higher last semester will be eligible for membership in the freshman honor Society, Phi Eta Sigma, according to Richard Kamieniecki, president.

An initiation and banquet will be held sometime this May for men who qualified last year.

Any freshman who had a three point or above his first semester can still become eligible by making high enough grades this semester to bring his accumulative point average up to a 3.5.

Soprano Well Received At Concert

By JEFF OSOFF

Dorothy Maynor, lyric soprano, more than lived up to critics' acclaims as having "... one of the sweetest and purest voices in the soprano register," as she captivated a small audience at the fourth Artist Series concert Monday, March 11 in the men's gymnasium.

The program, which consisted of six sections entitled, "Songs of the Open," "Man's Life and Love," "Women's Love," "A Child's World," and "Language of the Soul," amply gave Miss Maynor the opportunity to display her extreme agility and the beautiful naturalness of her voice.

Miss Maynor began the program with Handel's "Let Me Wan-

3 Comedies To Be Presented In 2nd Bill Of One-Acts

A second bill of one-acts will be presented at 7:30 p.m., March 15 in Gate Theatre by the University Theatre, according to Dr. Frank L. Miesle, assistant professor of speech.

The bill is as follows: "Finder's Keepers," by George Kelly, is directed by Nolan E. Hudson. This is a situational comedy which has been presented professionally for three years in the United States and Canada. The old proverb "finder's keepers, loser's weepers" plays an important part in this play.

Mrs. Aldrid, a very pretty thing whose philosophy is that "people who lose that kind of money can probably afford it, so I'm keeping it," is portrayed by Marian Craig. Mr. Aldrid, a serious looking business man who thinks his wife has the "psychology of a thief," is played by Michael Katz. Mrs. Hampton, who possesses something of a Madonna-like quality, young and innocent, is portrayed by Janice Hinze.

The second one-act is "Albuquerque Ten Minutes" by Florence Ryerson and is directed by William E. Barr. This is a human comedy that takes place in a small waiting-room in the Santa Fe Station at Albuquerque. Bill Bailey, Hollywood cowboy actor on the Jack Carson order, is played by Kenneth Blanc. Candice Lynn, a New York stage actress, sophisticated but sentimental, is portrayed by Mary Mahoney. Mrs. Hoskins, the typical tourist, and outspoken busybody is played by Jo Kramer. Thomas and Meeta, an Indian couple that add a unique twist to the comedy are played by Tony Mougey and Melvia Kerr.

"Master Pierre Patelin," the third one-act to be presented, has been translated from the French by Merrit Stone and is directed by Kaye Rodabaugh. This play is a battle of wits in the Medieval French style but holds pretty true to modern times. One of the characters even feigns insanity to get out of trouble.

Pierre, a crafty lawyer who uses his scheming brain to get into trouble and out of it again, is portrayed by Ronald O'Leary.

Joeau, a tailor who always seems to get swindled much against his efforts to swindle everyone else, is played by Alvin Waldron.

Marie, a wholesome individual that is not above helping Pierre get in and out of his messes, is played by Lindalee Smith.

Judge, a righteous man confused by the lawyer, tailor, and Shepherd, is portrayed by David Smalley, and Shepherd, a dimwit who later is not such a dimwit, is played by Lois Derrough.

There is no admission charge for these one-act plays, and high school students and townspeople are invited.

ODK Applications Available Monday

Membership applications for Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary, will be available in the graduate school office on the second floor of the Administration Bldg. beginning Monday, March 18, announced Roland Williams, chairman of the Applications Committee.

Applications must be turned in to an active member of the group no later than Wednesday, April 3. All men who wish to be considered for membership must submit applications at this time, Williams said.

Men can qualify for membership through service and leadership in at least two of the following fields: scholarship, athletics, social-religious affairs, publications, and speech, music and dramatic arts.

New initiates and ODK's "Man of the Year" will be announced at Honors Day ceremonies in May. They will be honored at a banquet following the initiation the same day.

Hermans To Discuss Political Developments

Dr. Hans Hermans, director of Netherlands information service on the Island of Curacao, will lecture on "Recent Political Developments in the Netherlands Antilles," (formerly the Netherlands West Indies) Monday, March 18 at 2 p.m. in the recreation hall.

The Dutch owned islands of Curacao and Aruba are sites for the refining and shipping facilities which handle most of the oil produced in Venezuela, the world's second largest oil producing country. These refineries were important enough to have been targets for shells from German submarines during the past war.

During the 1930's, Dr. Hermans was journalist and newspaper correspondent in the Netherlands and since then he has held various other positions both in the Netherlands and the West Indies.

During the war he gave up his newspaper work and devoted his time to study and writing. He had a number of books published after the war. In the early post-war period he re-entered journalism.

Advisers for the show are Raymond Whittaker, director of residence services, and Dr. Melvin Hyman, assistant professor of speech.

Thirty different acts will be seen in the show, according to Patricia Rodgers, publicity director. Performers are: The Bobbie Haskins Rhythm Trio; Carol Saylor, pantomime; BG Jazz Quintet; Larry Leach, vocalist; Chi Omega Modern Quartet; Phi Kappa Tau Dixie Land Band.

Carol Shaffer, vocalist; Lindalee Smith, comedy reading; Alpha Gamma Delta Barbershop Quartet; Herb Moorhead, vocalist; Alpha Kappa Omega Quartet; the Krazy Koeds, comedy skit and pantomime; Ronald O'Leary, pantomime.

Patricia Rodgers and Eugene Wilson, vocal duet; Blueboys Modern Quartet; Suzanne Claffin, pantomime; Lewis Bove, Suzanne Moran, Donna McCormick, and David Graetz, comedy skit.

Bill Jenkins, clown; Jeanne Baker, toe dance; Dale Swan, vocalist; and Royce Hutchinson, who will accompany some vocalists.

Gene Davis is director of the show.

Queens, Sponsors To Reign At 9th Military Ball Tonight

'Emma' Premier To Be Last Major Production

The world premier of "Emma," a delightful comedy by John H. Hauer, will be the last major production of the University Theatre this season. "Emma" will be presented in the main auditorium May 9, 10, and 11.

The main characters in the play are Emma, played by Nancy Looman; Knightly, Fred Thayer; Frank Churchill, Lee Foster; and Harriet, played by Shirley Klotz.

Other parts include Rex McGraw, John Shibley, Robert Smith, Kenneth Blanc, Kenneth Wulff, Albert Ronke, Barbara Wood, Phyllis O'Reilly, Stephanie Gildehaus, Cynthia Dicken, Margery Aigler, and Delight Thompson.

The Air Force Queen, Army Regimental Queen, their four attendants, and the sponsors of the Arnold Air Society and Pershing Rifle units will be honored tonight at the ninth annual Military Ball in the men's gym, according to Paul Wagner, AFROTC, and David Jeong, ROTC, co-chairmen.

The queens and the four attendants will be presented

Parade To Open Dogpatch Week

The fifteenth annual Sadie Hawkins Week sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega will be officially ushered in Monday, March 18, with a parade for all the candidates for Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner, according to Norman Nunamaker, chairman.

The parade will form on Fraternity Row. The all-campus election for Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner will be held Wednesday, March 20, in the recreation hall.

The week's activities will be climaxed with the annual Sadie Hawkins dance to be held from 9 p.m. to midnight in the men's gym. Decorations will include bales of straw, live animals, and other appropriate Dogpatch props.

During this week, it is the custom for women to ask men for all dates, especially for the dance on Saturday, Nunamaker said.

Proclamation
KNOW ALL DOGPATCH MEN what ain't married by these presents and, specially Lil' Abner Yokum;

WHEREAS: there be inside of our town limits a passel of gals what ain't married, but craves something awful to be, and

WHEREAS: these gals' pappies and mummies have been shouldering the burden of their board and keep for more years than is tolerable and

WHEREAS: there be in Dogpatch plenty of young men what could marry these gals, but acts ornery and won't and

WHEREAS: we deems matrimony's joys and being sure of eating regular the birthright of our fair Dogpatch womanhood, I DO HEREBY PROCLAIMS AND DECREES, by right of the power and majesty invested in me as high executive of Bowling Green Dogpatch, March 18 to 23 as Sadie Hawkins Week at Bowling Green State University.

Pres. Ralph W. McDonald

66 Men Pledged To Fraternities

A three-day open rush period which ended Wednesday, March 13, gave an opportunity for 66 men to pick up bids that they didn't see Saturday, according to George Howick, vice-president of the Interfraternity Council.

The following are men that received bids during the three-day period, either through bids or open rushing:

Alpha Kappa Omega—Paul Brown, James Fauntleroy, Walter Killian; Alpha Tau Omega—William T. O'Brian, Harold Warren; Delta Epsilon—Gerald Schmitt, William Eckert; Delta Tau Delta—Howard Ferguson, John Sweda, James Hoppel, Kenneth Vance; Delta Upsilon—Robert Furnas, Richard Bugeba, Fred Perzy, Oswald Neroni, Neal Reichert; Kappa Sigma—Dave Chumlea, David Aten, Larry Schreck, Norman Fly, Sal Piccirillo; Phi Delta Theta—Fred Churchill, Raymond Bennett, Ray Reese, Alan Jensen, David King, Robert Zimpfer; Phi Kappa Psi—Tom Boyer; Phi Kappa Tau—Warren Ruggles, Terry Violi, Thomas Plank, Ron Cashen, Bob Haley, William Steinman, Roy Gottfried, Gary Johnson, William Peinert, Thomas Hartman, Carl Peschel; Pi Kappa Alpha—David Novok, Paul Anderson, David Dittmar, Harold Schankin; Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Donald Orians, Richard Rosswurm, Robert Lawrence, Gusna Rutledge, Melvin Moore, Roger Weber; Sigma Chi—John Milnor, David McClain, James Ward, Donald Barth; Sigma Nu—Robert Agee, Dean Mitchell, William Higgins; Sigma Phi Epsilon—William Sebelin, Bruce Emery, William Bishop, Lester Fruth, Donald Widen, Roland Wahler, Robert Bingle; Theta Chi—Kenneth Lauterer, William Neikirk, Nicholas Sammartin.

visiting Great Britain, the United States and Canada. He left journalism to become secretary to Dr. Johannes Beel, Prime Minister of the Netherlands. At the same time he was chairman of the Government's Information Board.

He established a course in journalism at the Carolus Magnus University in Nijmegen and for three years lectured on journalism and publicity in this University.

As chairman of the Dutch Public Relations Society he organized the first international meeting of Public Relations officers held in the Netherlands and was chosen chairman of the committee for the establishment of an International Relations Society. In this capacity he lectured in London, Paris, Norway and Germany and still found time to visit the Far East on two occasions. In 1950 Dr. Hermans was appointed to his present position.

Illustrations

Dr. Hermans, whose visit here is sponsored by the geography department, will illustrate his speech with either movies or color slides.

According to Dr. Lowry B. Karnes, chairman of the geography department, Dr. Hermans talk will be of special interest to students and faculty in the political science and history departments.

trophies by Lt. Col. Carl G. Arnold and Lt. Col. Harry M. Myers, Air Force and Army professors of military science and tactics, respectively. The Queens will be designated as official unit queens for the rest of the semester. In past years, the women presented at the Military Ball have taken part in federal inspections held in the spring for the Air Force and Army ROTC units.

Morrow Featured
The Big Beat of Buddy Morrow and his band will be featured. This will mark the RCA and Mercury recording artist's second appearance on this campus. He and his band played here in the spring of 1954.

Morrow will bring to Bowling Green jazz saxophonist, Dick Johnson, a recording star in his own right, and vocalist Betty Ann Blake.

The band is best known for its RCA recordings of "Night Train," "I Can't Get Started," "Stairway to the Stars," "One Mint Julep," and "Dragnet."

Morrow recently completed a personal appearance tour sponsored by the Mennen Company and the Defense Department in which he made a series of ten one-night stands at various military bases. He will be coming to Bowling Green from Champaign-Urbana, Ill., after an engagement at the University of Illinois.

United Nations Theme
A United Nations theme will be the setting for the Ball. At one end of the gym a 12-foot replica of the United Nations building will be constructed, and a large revolving world globe will be suspended at the center of the dance floor. Streamers will extend out from it to the walls, which will be adorned with the flags of UN member nations. The bandstand will be placed under a cutout of the UN symbol.

An honor guard composed of Pershing Rifle members will be stationed on the steps at the entrance. At intermission the Drum and Bugle Corps of both units will perform.

Other committee chairmen for the dance are as follows: Stephen Ray, AFROTC, decorations; Leland M. Lev, AFROTC, band; George Szabo, AFROTC, budget; Robert Brannon, AFROTC, entrance; Thomas Snide, AFROTC, printing; Robert L. Bowman, AFROTC, reception; Herbert A. Kuehn, AROTC, checkroom; Clayton H. Cornell, AROTC, gifts and flowers; and Lawrence Trask, AROTC, publicity.

Pix Deadline Sunday

All candidates for Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner must turn in their pictures to the Alpha Tau Omega house by noon Sunday, stated Norman Nunamaker, chairman of Sadie Hawkins Week.

Pan Hel Sets Up Open Rush Period

Open rushing began 8 a.m. Wednesday, March 13 and will continue until the end of this semester, according to Arlene Daugherty, president of Panhellenic Council. The period of open rushing is for all sororities who did not pledge their quota.

In order to be formally pledged, a girl must be registered in the dean of women's office. Women who are interested in open rushing may register at any time in the dean of women's office, or may wait until they receive a bid to register.

Bidding may occur only within the sorority houses, stated Miss Daugherty.

Panhellenic Council meeting will be open each week to one representative from each sorority pledge class. "This enables the pledges to gain an inside view of the workings of Panhellenic Council and also provides an opportunity for them to express any opinions which they might have. Panhellenic would like to encourage all pledge classes to send representatives," said Miss Daugherty.

Editorially Speaking

Uncultured?

The existing campus apathy and lack of interest in cultural events was greatly epitomized this week as could be seen by anyone in attendance at the fourth Artist Series concert, Monday evening.

The Artist Series Committee once again brought to the campus an outstanding performer in an effort to maintain the high standards of entertainment which have been established in the past. Yet, only 250 persons, approximately 100 of which were faculty and townspeople, cared to attend the concert.

Many students at the University have complained for being labeled anti-intellectual and disinterested in culture, however, they do nothing to erase the so-called erroneous impression. Rather, they are content to sit back and observe the status quo instead of trying to improve the conditions.

It is interesting to note that faculty members and townspeople must pay a fairly high price in order to have the opportunity to attend these concerts. Yet, students, who need only to present an activity card to get an admission ticket, seemingly do not have the initiative or interest to exercise their privilege.

This year, the Artist Series Committee was appropriated approximately $8,000 of the student activity fee money in order to stage the concerts. At this rate, the cost of each concert varies between $1,500 and $2,000 depending on the artists who appear. It seems quite incongruous that students have no desire to take advantage of something for which they have already paid.

Students who attend universities and colleges located in the confines of large cities exert themselves to take in the cultural opportunities which are present in those areas. Yet, students here at the University refuse to take advantage of the cultural programs which are brought to the University in an effort to provide entertainment which is generally found only in the larger cities.

It seems rather foolish to maintain an Artist Series program on campus if its full worth and benefit is not capitalized upon. Unless students begin taking an active part in the cultural program which is offered by the University, it stands to reason that the program will, because of necessity, be discontinued. This is one event which we are not anxious to witness.

Senior Gives Recital

Verne Collins, a music major, will present his senior recital on bass trombone at 3 p.m. on Sunday, March 17, in the Practical Arts Bldg.

The program will include "Prelude and Allegro," Bozza; "Sonata II," Ballard; "Priere," Clerisse; "Theme de Concours," Clerisse; "Barcarolle et Chanson Bachique," Semler-Collery; "Grave," Pierre Petit; "Cortege," Beaucamp; and "Allegro et Final," Bozza.

Council Decides Not To Ask For Higher Admission Requirements

By HANK JACQUES

Signs of the Times—Ohio's six state universities have decided not to ask for higher standards of admission "at this time," according to a story in the March 7 edition of the Columbus Evening Dispatch.

State law now provides that any qualified high school graduate can enter a state university.

A move to hike admission requirements had been considered as a way to meet the mounting number of youths who want to attend college. The problem threatens to become crucial when persons born during the war years reach college age in several years.

Acting through the Inter-University Council, of which Dr. Ralph W. McDonald is president, Bowling Green, Ohio State, Ohio University, Miami, Kent, and Central State College recommended keeping the present law as to admission in effect.

JACQUES

However, the Council recommended:

1. Improve pre-college counseling of students who seem likely to face problems in college.
2. Warning high school students with "scholastic inadequacies" that they may not be able to make the grade in college, and limiting their academic and campus activities accordingly.
3. That all universities set up a progressively tougher level of grades that must be made to remain in college, to prevent students from completing several years but being unable to graduate because of low grades. Ohio State recently announced such a change.
4. That high school students be advised that college is easier if pupils have a background of English, mathematics, laboratory science, social science, and sometimes foreign language.

So far, the council stated, larger student bodies have not meant poorer students. The council urged efforts to find ways to make it possible for highly qualified students without much money to attend college.

It all boils down to the question of supply and demand. As the number of people desiring admission to colleges increases, the requirements will tighten. Perhaps this will be best in the long run.

Spring is here, the time when a young man's fancy turns to what ladies have been thinking about all winter long. Senioritis breaks out too in a rather large epidemic around this time of the year.

From the newspapers of West Virginia University and Muskingum College, a few definitions.

Bachelor: A man who never makes the same mistake once.

Research: Copying from one book is plagiarism. Copying from two is research.

Rhubarb: Bloodshot celery.

Criteria: Measures which the other guy uses to underestimate what you have already overestimated the deal to be worth.

Critics: People who go places and boo things.

Faith and Bejabbers—Happy St. Patrick's Day.

Players Set Meeting

The Workshop Players will have a business meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 20, in 18 Gate Theatre, according to Dr. Frank L. Miesle, assistant professor of speech.

One Too Many Queens, Lack Of Interfraternity Spirit Discussed

Dear Editor,

The University Social Committee and the Spirit and Traditions Board are collaborating on planning a Spring Week End on May 24, 25, and 26, 1957. Various ideas are being considered but one factor seems to conflict with all tentative plans. In the past, there has been a Miss B-G, elected by the students with the finalists selected by the bandleader at the U-A Prom; and a May Queen, elected by the student body, presented at May Court. Since we are initiating the plan of an entire big weekend instead of several unconnected activities as in the past, we feel that one queen to reign over the whole affair would be more successful. However, the students' opinion should be the deciding factor in the elimination of one queen. A letter has been sent to the Elections Committee requesting that they poll the campus for a consensus on March 20, 1957. Let us have your opinion. We want the first Spring Week End to be a success.

The Social Committee

when competition turns into defamatory remarks about other groups during rushing, or anonymous phone calls consisting of a few choice obscene words which are usually associated with people who have forgotten what the word decency means, then competition ceases to be good.

What can be done to curb this trend of ill will? I feel that first of all formal apologies should be given by the offenders to the offended and second, that IFC try to find a better way for better relationships.

All the fraternities on this campus belong to a central organization. If every group would support this organization and its ideals our fraternity system would be stronger and better in every way.

Tankers Honored At Dinner; Cage Award To McCampbell

The Wednesday night Winter Sports Banquet at Shatzel Hall honored the basketball, swimming, and wrestling teams. Charles "Buddy" McCampbell and Bob DeLaRonde were awarded the most valuable player trophies for basketball and wrestling, respectively. The swimming squad was honored in particular as they brought home their second successive and the schools fourth Mid-American Conference championship since their entrance into the league.

President Ralph W. McDonald could not be in attendance at the event but he recorded his message and it was played at the conclusion of the affair. The president commended coach Bruce Bellard and the fine job his wrestlers were doing. He said that we were once "again on the march in basketball." The president expressed his great pleasure and pride in the accomplishments of the swimming team in their great victory over Miami. He paid a special tribute to senior Karl Seidl when he stated that his effort in the MAC title clash will go down in the annals of Bowling Green sports as one of the great efforts by a Falcon athlete.

Coach Harold Anderson was introduced by master of ceremonies Eldon T. Smith as the man who "lifted Bowling Green into the national basketball spotlight" when he came to BG from Toledo in 1942.

Anderson expressed his happiness over the outcome of the past year and thought his team could go farther next year. Anderson did point out that Miami and Marshall were both losing but one starter. The senior basketball players were John Slesinger, Crystal "Boo" Ellis, and Jerry Kramer.

Slesinger won the foul shooting trophy, Ellis was named honorary team captain, and McCampbell was voted by the team as the most valuable player.

Coach Bruce Bellard presented a varsity wrestling squad that had six sophomores among its eight starters. Gus Rutledge was the high point man of the season. The seniors are Bob DeLaRonde, Ed Downe, and Jim Krupa. Krupa and DeLaRonde were the honorary team captains and DeLaRonde copped the coveted most valuable player award.

The swimming champions and seniors Karl Seidl, Joe Garbo, Dick Rose and Jim Repp represented the swimming team as he read a testimonial that showed the deep gratitude for the job that Cooper had done for and with them.

Coach Dave Matthews presented a freshman swim team that broke numerous records during a fine season. Bellard said his freshman grappling team was the outstanding one in the conference. Coach Jim Knierim introduced his fine yearling cage outfit.

Monday Meeting For Tennis Candidates

There will be a meeting of the tennis team Monday afternoon at 3:30 in room 301 of the men's gym according to coach Robert J. Keefe.

All candidates for both the freshman and varsity teams are requested to appear at this meeting.

Hoopsters Pick Opponent Team

Bowling Green's Falcons picked two big men and three fine floor men on their 1956-57 all-opponent team.

Miami's Wayne "Goose" Embry led the top performers that the Falcons faced this year. Mike Moran, Marquette's standout center, was the other big man chosen.

Three fine playmakers played great games versus BG. Dave Ricketts brought Duquesne in early in the year and then proceeded to lead the Dukes on to an excellent season.

Dave Markey runs things for Canisius and they are now in the NCAA tourney. Brigham Young won their league and have also advanced to the NCAA playoffs. They are led by Tom Steinke who is the fifth member of the Falcons best opposition.

The second team contained three Mid-American Conference players. Marshall's Hal Greer and Cebe Price made it along with Miami's John Powell. High scorers Bill Ebben for Detroit and Dick Heise of DePaul filled out the remaining berths.

Prof Selected Aquatic Head

Miss Iris E. Andrews, assistant professor of health and physical education, has recently been selected as National Aquatics Chairman of the National Section for Girls' and Women's Sports, a division of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

The National Aquatics Committee is an educational organization designed to serve the needs and interests of administrators, teachers, leaders, and participants in aquatic program for girls and women. The committee is responsible for formulating, publicizing and interpreting the guiding principles, standards, and rules for women's swimming, as well as stimulating and evaluating research in this area.

Miss Andrews is well known for her work in the field of aquatics with the University's Swan Club, which is one of the outstanding collegiate synchronized swimming groups in the country.

She has been director of women's aquatics at the University for the past 12 years and served as Ohio's Aquatics Chairman for the past two years. She also served a two year term on the National Aquatics Committee in the area of competitive synchronized swimming rules.

Sawdy Speaks About Olympics To Honorary

Al Sawdy, physical education instructor and University athletic trainer, will speak on his trip to the Olympics at a meeting of Phi Epsilon Kappa, physical education honorary, Thursday, March 14, at 7 p.m. in the Practical Arts Bldg.

Officers of the group are Al Moebus, president; Gene Noykos, vice-president; John McPherson, secretary-treasurer; Larry Earls, guide; Gaylord Miller, historian; and Don Libbe, sergeant-at-arms.

Cindermen Work Out In Preparation For Opener

Track prospects for this year's team look very poor, according to head coach Robert Whittaker. One of the main reasons for this prediction is the fact that last year's freshman team is adding very little to the varsity, because they had no one to work with them as freshmen.

This year's frosh team looks very good in practice so far and has 37 members while the varsity has only 20 members. Freshman, however are not permitted to participate in Mid American Conference athletics.

Graduation Hurt Team

Graduation and ineligibility have hurt the Falcons outlook for this year. Last year BG finished second to Miami in the MAC tournament, losing by only 11 points.

Floyd Lennox, winner of the 100 and 200-yard dashes and relay anchor man in last years tourney is ineligible to participate. Carlos Jackson, who placed in both the 100 yard dash and the broad jump is still a big question mark for the BG team.

Strong In Field

According to Coach Whittaker we should be stronger in the field events than in the actual running events. Junior Irv Bacon, last years MAC high jump champ will be back in that event and also in the discus and shotput.

In the weights along with Bacon will be Dick Leuhrs and Carl Schorr back from last years team. Al Ojampo, a sophomore has looked good so far in practice with the discus.

Koester Shows Well

Lynn Koester, another sophomore has shown well in the high jump and could team with Bacon for good power in that event.

The pole vault will have sophomore Bob Ramlow, who is expected to retain BG's vaulting strength.

The team will be weak in the hurdle events and also in the distances. Ted Thomas, last years 440-yard dash champion will be back, however, to show for BG.

Whittaker is using Herb Moorehead, last years MAC broad jump champ as an assistant coach.

Western Michigan will be favored to take the MAC tournament and Miami or Ohio University will probably be second, Whittaker said.

Tourney Planned For Weightlifters

The intramural department has announced that there will be an all-campus weightlifting tournament on April 10-11.

The events in the contest will be: the military press, clean and jerk, curl, stiff-legged dead lift, and squat. Points will be awarded depending on the number of pounds lifted in all five events.

All the students interested in entering the tournament are urged to prepare themselves. Further information concerning time, place, and entry procedure will appear in a later issue of the B-G News.

Bowling Green football teams went unbeaten in 14 games last season. The freshmen won five in a row, while the varsity won eight and tied one.

Pastimes

the Prez Sez:

By LES WAGNER

Spring has sprung to put it mildly. It is the time for all good college students to rise to the occasion and develop the worthy traits they are reknowned for. Every university, college, boarding school, and barber college have a handful of traditions and pastimes.

Our fair institution at Bowling Green is certainly no different from the rest. As the warm weather sweeps our campus each breathing member of the male populous envisions himself at the quarry with the chick of his choice, or even her roommate. BG has men of action and so come Friday afternoon we motor out discussing indian wrestling, tobogganing in Clyde, library science and other interesting topics of the day.

Once at our rendezvous we gaily lounge around sipping delicious bottles of soda (or pop) whatever your taste may be. Soon we bring out our handy, ever-ready portable radio and since we are naturally good solid American citizens we tune in our favorite baseball team.

WAGNER

Since so many of us enter a baseball season void of any substantial knowledge on the impending race I will attempt to aid matters by confusing you.

The National League or senior loop has in the past two or three years become the more powerful of the two circuits.

I'll stick with the champion Dodgers to repeat. True, age is creeping up but I have a feeling that two young lefty pitchers, Johnny Podres and Karl Spooner, will return and give the necessary portside power to a fairly potent pitching staff of Carl Erskine, Don Newcombe, Sal Maglie, and Roger Craig. The Flock bullpen of Don Bessent, Clem Labine, and Ed Roebuck comprise the best relief contingent the league can offer.

The outfit that can put the halter on the Flatbush crew are Birdie Tebbetts and his mighty Cincinnati Redlegs. Tebbetts admittedly has power to burn but the only question mark is pitching. Sure the addition of Warren Hacker will help but it's doubtful if Brooks Lawrence will match last years performance.

Jackie Robinson may have ranked some Braves with his playboy charges but that's one of the problems that Fred Haney must overcome at Milwaukee. Age is also overtaking certain Braves like Andy Pafko, Bobby Thomson, and especially Warren Spahn.

St. Louis has definitely improved and should put in their best bid for a pennant since the late forties. I give them a slight chance of edging out Milwaukee.

Philadelphia should head the second division followed by Pittsburgh's rising Pirates. The new York Giants, sans Hoyt Wilhelm, are too sadly depleted for even the Dodger fans to cheer. But they could outlast hapless Chicago.

What a MATHEMATICIAN can do at IBM

Mathematics is an ancient but ever-advancing science that contains many forms. It shouldn't surprise you then that it took some time before John Jackson discovered the one brand of mathematics that seemed custom-tailored to his ability and temperament. John is an Applied Science Representative, working out of the IBM office at 122 East 42nd Street, N. Y. C.

First of all, what's it all about? What does a fellow like John Jackson do all day? In his own words, "I keep in touch with the executives of many different companies—advising them on the use of their IBM electronic data processing computers. I personally consult with these customers, and analyze their scientific and technical problems for solution by IBM. Occasionally, I'm asked to write papers, and give talks and demonstrations on electronic computing. All in all, it's pretty fascinating . . . something new pops up every day." In other words, John is a full-fledged computing expert, a consultant . . . and a very important person in this coming age of automation through electronics.

Since the IBM laboratories are always devising easier and faster ways to solve the problems of science, government, and industry, an Applied Science Representative can never say he's learned his job and that's the end of it. At least once every two months, he attends seminars to be updated on the latest developments in engineering and operations research.

Introduces new methods

During the two years that John has spent with IBM in Applied Science, he has guided innumerable IBM customers to new and better ways of doing things electronically. For example: about a year ago, a leading aircraft manufacturer wanted to experiment with a radically different design for a nuclear reactor. Although the basic format had been established, the project still required many months of toil with mathematical equations.

The aircraft people decided that they couldn't afford to wait that long, so they called in IBM. After discussion with top executives, John helped to map out a computer program that saved the organization over 100 days of pencil-chewing, nail-biting arithmetic. Later, for this same company, John organized the establishment of computer systems for aircraft performance predictions . . . for data reduction of wind tunnel tests . . . and for wing stress analysis. At the same time, he worked with this company's own employees, training them in the use of IBM equipment. John still drops around to see that everything is running smoothly.

Another service that John performs is the constant reappraisal of each customer's IBM operation. Occasionally, a customer may tie himself in knots over a procedural "stickler." Periodically, in fact, John brings IBM customers together . . . just to talk over what's happening in each other's business—how everybody else handled that old bugaboo in any industry . . . details.

New field for Mathematicians

John is exercising his mathematical know-how in a field that was practically unheard of ten years ago. Even now, this kind of work may be news to you. It was to John Jackson a few years back when he was an undergraduate at the University of Colorado. At that time, he was considering actuarial work or mathematical research. But John liked the excitement and diversification of science and industry and he wanted to use his mathematical background in both of those areas. It was not until he was interviewed by IBM that field computing whetted his scientific appetite. A few months later, John launched his own IBM career as an Applied Science trainee.

Promotionwise, John has come a long way since that time. He's now an Applied Science Representative in one of the busiest, most responsible offices in the IBM organization . . . mid-town Manhattan.

With his wife, Katherine, and daughter, Lisa, 20 months, and John,

Discussing a problem with colleagues

Jr., 6 weeks, he enjoys his suburban Port Washington home. He's happy and he's satisfied. And then, too, John knows a few vital statistics about IBM . . . such as the fact that the Applied Science Division has quadrupled during the past three years, and that in 1956 alone, over 70 promotions were conferred. If ever a future held promise, here is one.

IBM hopes that this message will help to give you some idea of what a mathematician can do at IBM. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists and Liberal Arts majors in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Technical Services. Why not drop in and discuss IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply our latest brochure and tell you when IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, IBM will be happy to answer your questions. Just write to Mr. P. H. Bradley, IBM, Room 0000, 590 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Ireland Closes Taverns For 'Tis St. Pat's Day

Sunday, March 17, being St. Patrick's Day, true Irishmen all over the world will soon begin holidaying and saying, "Hand me down the sash me father wore and me singing harp."

Actually, it is perfectly natural for everyone to want to be Irish on such a glorified feast day as St. Pat's, and even real-live Irishmen are apt to behave a whole lot more "Irish" on this particular day. Irish or not, it is a fine day of the year for dragging out green things to wear and bringing to the limelight all those repressed Irish feelings. Feelings like singing a galaxy of Irish songs or displaying, en Plein air, all those Irish tempers.

Pious Rituals

Despite the gaiety on both sides of the ocean on this day, it holds an aspect of the holy which is visible in some of the pious rituals still observed in Ireland. One such ritual is for the father of a family to gather his children around him in the morning, bare the left shoulder of each, put a sally rod on the fire until it chars and then cools, and with it the father makes the sign of the cross on each child's shoulder.

As this gesture is made, the father says, "May the sign of the holy cross be always with you, and may you keep the faith that Patrick brought us."

Patrick's History

According to church historians, St. Patrick was born in western England in 389 AD and was the son of a Briton of Roman citizenship and Christian faith. At 16, St. Patrick was seized by Irish raiders and brought to Ireland where he was enslaved for some years until his escape to the Continent. He later entered holy orders and returned in 432 AD to Ireland as a missionary bishop. He remained in Ireland his whole life and has become "the Apostle of Ireland."

Highly unpublicized in the fact that the Irish Republic closes every single, pub, saloon, and tavern from Malin Head to Cape Clear on St. Patrick's Day. Some say they are even barred and bolted down to eliminate temptations. This is the day that all the Irish remaining in Ireland, it is said, close down the bars and rush to the churches, en masse, where they pray for their relatives and countrymen who have gone to America.

Some criticize the custom of "drinking in" St. Pat's Day in America. However, Irishmen think it is something of a necessity since this makes it much easier for an Irishman to visualize a non-red-head as being a "K'leen," Eileen, or a "sweet rose of Tralee." Much Irish jingling to the tune of the fiddle by lovely colleens in tams or laddies in derbies can be seen on both sides of the ocean.

US Celebrates

In the United States evidences of the coming of Shamrock Day veritably bloom weeks before the feast day. For weeks, all manner of wares are displayed in shops bearing green ribbons, shamrocks, and cut-out harps. Butchers neck-lace pig's heads with beautiful green ribbon, Dublin corsets are advertised, Galway hats (designed on Boulevard Raspail), Commemorative tweeds, and the like are all swathed and nearly embalmed in Green, Green, greenery. In the middle of all this green, Irish paraphanelia are not infrequently seen such signs of magisterial command, hardly subtle, as "Buy Irish".

Anyone who doesn't "Buy Irish" that particular week is considered by merchants, at least, to be if not actually pagan, bordering on the agnostic or tainted by Saxon blood.

Professors Attend Meet

Dr. John R. Coash, geology department chairman, and Dr. Milford S. Lougheed, assistant professor of geology, are attending a meeting of the east-central section of the Association of Geology Teachers at the University of Michigan today and Saturday.

Mutual problems in teaching geology are being discussed, and a field trip will be made Saturday.

Family-Style Meals Will Be Innovated In Founder's Quad

The newest University food service plan—serving meals in the family-style arrangement—will begin Monday, March 18, in the University's newest dormitory, Founders Quadrangle.

The family-style arrangement—having food served to residents at individual tables by waitresses—will be used only at evening meals, Monday through Thursday, and at Sunday dinners. Other meals will be served in the usual cafeteria style, according to the head residents.

All tables in both dining rooms will be set for eight persons, and when the girls are seated, students working as waitresses will serve the meal. The waitresses will also clear the tables before serving dessert.

At each table, two girls will act as hostess and assistant hostess. They will see that their "guests" are served properly, which should be a valuable experience for future homemakers.

"The girls will be entirely free to sit where they want," Mrs. Trumbore, head resident of Harmon Hall, said. "They will not be assigned to any particular table or dinner companions."

This week, March 11-15, the girls are seeing a movie on proper table etiquette and are learning what table settings will be used. Mrs. Marilyn Prast, Founders dining hall manager, is giving proper serving instructions to the girls who will work as waitresses.

'Casual' Frosh Dance Planned For Saturday

A dance for freshmen and their dates only will be held Saturday, March 30 from 9 to 12 p.m. in the women's gym according to Larry Coffman, chairman.

The theme of the dance will be the "House of Blue Lights." The dress will be casual and admission will be $1 for couples and 75 cents for stags.

Campus Groups Elect Officers, Discuss Trip

Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honorary society, is functioning again after a semester of inactivity. Newly elected officers are Carol Keck, president; Carol Baum, vice-president; and Linda Wipior, secretary-treasurer. Miss Florence Baird, associate professor of foreign languages, is the group's adviser.

Social meetings of Sigma Delta Pi will be held with the Spanish Club on the first Wednesday of each month. Business meetings will be held the third Thursday of each month.

Pem Club

Louise Young was elected president of Pem Club, women's physical education major's organization, at its recent election. Other officers are Jan Fenwick, vice-president; Sue Putnam, secretary; Carol Sue Jones, treasurer; and Betty Arink and Judy Cronk, co-chairman of the publicity committee.

Pre-Law Club

The Pre-Law Club will meet Monday, March 18, at 7 p.m. in the faculty room of the Nest to discuss the proposed trip to the state legislature.

Prout Hall Presents 'Shamrock Swing'

One of the features of Prout Hall's "Shamrock Swing" will be the crowning of a St. Pat who will be chosen from among the men in attendance at the affair. The dance will be held Saturday, March 16, from 9 p.m. to midnight in the Prout lounge.

Entertainment during intermission will be presented by Carolyn Krukemyer, "Danny Boy," vocal solo; Liz Miller and Bev Toth, "Did You Ever," pantomime; and Liz Ota, hula.

Punch and cookies will also be served at intermission.

Chaperones for the evening will be Miss Phyllis Wilkie and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Trumbore.

Kay Buckey is general chairman of the dance.

BG ROTC Team Wins Rocket-Falcon Trophy

Bowling Green's ROTC Rifle team has won the Rocket-Falcon Rifle Team Trophy over the ROTC rifle team from the University of Toledo.

Sunday, March 10, at Toledo, the Bowling Green team beat Toledo by a score of 1374-1335. The match was fired in three positions; prone, kneeling, and standing making a total of 300 possible points for each man.

Ten men fired for Bowling Green, the highest five scores counting. Ralph Wells was high man for the Falcons in the match with a score of 281. The other BG scores were Gary Johnson, 277; John Hill, 275; John Cunningham, 272; and Lee Zimmerman, 269.

Ray Goulding was high for Toledo with a score of 280.

Kohl, Shatzel, Williams Elect Social Chairmen

The residents of Kohl, Shatzel, and Williams dormitories recently elected representatives to serve on respective dormitory social committees. Each man elected will represent the corridor in which he lives in committee meetings at the dormitory. The committees will plan the social and athletic activities for the residents of each dormitory.

Representatives elected at Kohl Hall are Thomas Curtis, Edward Hileman, James Medsker, Ray Rieder, and Gus Rutledge.

Elected to the committee at Shatzel Hall are Rodger Decker, Kenneth Farschman, Quintin Gravette, William Higgins, and Douglas Talman.

At Williams Hall, William McMahon will serve as social chairman of the dormitory and Donald Ruehl is athletic director.

Students Found Guilty Of Violating Car Rules At Student Court Meet

Seven students appeared in Student Court on Monday, March 11 for violation of University automobile regulations.

Alan Shepp was found guilty on three counts of parking violations. He was fined $3 for his second offense, $5 and one week suspension of car privileges for his third offense, and $20 for his fourth offense. Circumstances prevented suspension of car privileges and Shepp was fined an additional $10 in lieu of the two week suspension of car.

Found guilty of second offenses were Arthur Buckingham and Carlton Huffman. They were each fined $3.

Roberta Simone was found guilty of her second and third offenses. She was fined $3 for the second, $5 for the third, and she will attend the next two sessions of court because of circumstances involved in her case.

John Pennell was found guilty of his third offense and fined $5 in addition to car suspension for one week.

Lenny Villarreal was fined $25 for the failure to register his car. He was also found guilty of a parking violation and fined $1. Dewain Stonemetz was also found guilty of failure to register his car and was fined $25 with $20 suspended because of special circumstances.

Gerald Haldeman and Ron Mainous failed to appear in Student Court and were fined in absentia. Haldeman was found guilty of his first offense and fined $1, Mainous was found guilty of his second offense and fined $3.
